Greetings

FYI Both Research and Experience has taught me and my cousin who's an Arborist agrees with me that;

All Trees should be only trimmed in the late Fall Autumn and Early Winter when it's cold and the sap runs the slowest and definitely not in the Summer when it's the hottest and trees all sap is thin so it runs faster this can harm the trees making them more accessible to illnesses, heat and insect damage.plus people and animals need the shelter and shade
If done properly the trees will be healthier and can help aid in prevention of future damages
